

Monday 18th May

Hello Year 4,

I hope you are all keeping busy and staying safe. I would love to see some more photos of you busy at your home, or on a walk or bike ride in the fresh air with your family.

This week our home learning site is again packed with great activities for you to try.

English – The Shoemaker video has a surprise in store for you! Have a look at the activities list to try after you have watched the video. There is some art work linked to this video on the creative page too. You can still access the reading website too! There are lots of interesting books to read and activities to go along with them.

Maths – This week we are having another look at your fractions knowledge. How much can you remember? There is also a Mathopoly game for you to play with your family.

Science – can you continue to find exciting investigations to do on the science sparks page?

R.E. - There is a lovely video assembly to watch and discuss with your family this week.

Excitingly, I shall be going into school this week to get our classroom and the whole school ready for your return. Hopefully, if things continue to improve, we shall be seeing each other soon. So, keep up the good work and good hygiene and I will be in touch again next week.
