

Monday 4th May 2020

Hello Year 4,

I hope you are all still keeping safe and well. I am looking forward to calling you all again soon so that we can catch up on all the fun things you have been up to since we last spoke on the telephone.

This week on the home learning site we have lots of lovely things for you to do.

- English – Meet The Tiny Crusader and have a go at one of the story activities. Also read all about VE Day and complete the reading comprehension.
- Maths – It's decimals this week. Have a look at the White Rose Hub for some lessons and also have a go at the money activities I have suggested.
- Science – I have put a link to a website that is full of science investigations you can do at home. Take a look and choose something exciting to have a go at.
- R.E. I have uploaded some prayers you may find useful in this difficult time – can you have a go at writing one of your own prayers, using these as examples to help you?
- Geography – There is a capital cities quiz for the whole family to try together (no peeking at the answer sheet until you have all had a go). Which one of your family has the highest score?
- History – Have a look at the VE Day PowerPoint and create a report all about this significant day in history.
- Art – This is linked to the Tiny Crusader video – can you create some artwork to go with your stories?

Are you and your family planning any V.E. Day celebrations? I would love to see some photos of you all having fun. Below are some links for you to create some bunting to decorate your home and a spitfire to make.

Have fun, stay safe and I will be in touch again next week.
