

Monday 8th June,

Hello Y4,

I hope you are all safe and well and not too rusty after the rainy few days we have had! What a difference from last week!

OK, on our learning pages this week we have...

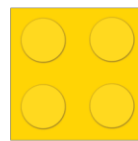

English – The House on Maple Street is a strange old house! Have a look at the intriguing image and create your own story about this amazing house!

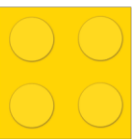

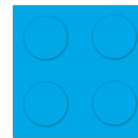

Maths – We are dividing whole numbers by 10 and 100 this week to create decimal numbers.

Science – Our topic of Animals Including Humans looks at the digestive system. Have a look at the PowerPoint and videos and create your own diagram to label the digestive system.

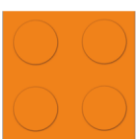

Creative Curriculum – I have added some STEM challenges this week for you to try. Can you compete again your family to create the best models? I would love to see some photos of your creations!

Keep learning, having fun and staying safe. If you are venturing out to meet anyone, remember to still keep your distance!

I will be in touch again next week.

Mrs Roberts
